

MONTVAILLANT
LYRICS DON'T WEEP ON MY GRAVE

DON'T WEEP ON MY GRAVE

MONTVAILLANT

DON'T WEEP ON MY GRAVE

When I am gone, let me go, let me go, let me go.
For I have so much to do and see.
Don't cry when you think of me;
be thankful for the beautiful years.
In which I gave you my love, I gave you my love.

Do not go to my grave to weep.

Let the memories ease your pain!
I am near and life goes on!
If you need it, call me and I will come! I will come!
Even if you can't see or touch me,
I will be there and if you listen to your heart.
You will feel clearly the sweetness of the love I bring,
the sweetness of the love I bring.

Do not go to my grave to weep.

I do not sleep, I do not sleep, I do not sleep. Sleep.
Sleep. Sleep.
I do not sleep, I do not sleep, I do not sleep.
I do not sleep, I do not sleep, I do not sleep.

I am the thousand winds that blow.
I am the glittering sparkle in flakes of snow.
I am the light that crosses the wheat fields slowly,
I am the gentle autumn rain.
I'm the awakening of the morning birds.
I am the song they sing, I am the missing words.
I am the morning calm, the red sky at night.
I am the star that shines on you so bright.

Do not miss a wink of sleep.
Do not go to my grave to weep.

I am not there, I am not dead.
I am alive and all around.